Chains Of Love

Music: Cerbin/Cox Lyrics & Melody: Cox

Another night
An eternity
Pleasure is pain
For his fraternity
Keeper of souls
A calamity
He pulls the strings
His inhumanity

She lays in fear
One eye open
Stories untold
Her spirit broken
Glimmer of hope
It won't last her
Submissive lies
Serving her master

All of her branded emotions
Falling prey to his anger
Caught in the web of his fury
He's the judge and jury

Another Day
An infinity
Control is key
For his divinity
Near or far
He's an entity
Breaking her will
His insanity

She waits in terror
Eyes wide open
For his return
Horrors unspoken
It never ends
If you ask her
She plays the slave
Protecting her master

It's the price she pays for love
At least she thinks so anyway
As he manipulates her mind
Devotion can be so unkind

She can't even think what she....
She can't even say what she....
She can't even feel what she....
She's wearing the chains of love

Another year
A ubiquity
Power is vital
To his sincerity
He leads the way
Such imparity
Setting the stage
His absurdity

She lives numb
In her prison
Terminal sadness
Endless submission
She'll pay the price
With her life
She must remain
The devoted wife

She prays that he will change his ways
And grant her love's salvation
But this is his kingdom come
And his will be done

She can't even think what she....
She can't even say what she....
She can't even feel what she....
She's wearing the chains of love

She can't even think what she....
She can't even say what she....
She can't even feel what she....
She's wearing the chains....
She can't even think what she....
She can't even say what she....
She can't even feel what she....
She's wearing the chains of love
