Room For One

Music: Askeland/Rosas Lyrics & Melody: Rogers

Come with me and you will find
In the scattered fragments of my mind
A lonely place that I must call home
The likes of which no one should ever know

Life in seclusion
Voices heard are all my own
Wasted away my life as I knew it
This is my cross that I must bare

I fuel my delusions
Locked away in my own cell
Darkness is all I can see
Hope for me no longer known

Room here for one
Room here for one
Room just for one
One

Deep within my unconscious mind
No one knows or will ever find
The reasons why I am this way
For my sins I will surely pay

Life in seclusion
Voices heard are all my own
Took away my life as I knew it
Left in here to rot alone

Room here for one
Room here for one
Room just for one

The life that I have chosen
Comes to haunt me now
Mistakes I've made along the way
I couldn't see somehow
Got just what I wanted
Didn't care just how
Now all my regrets
Come to the surface now
But all this comes too late
My soul has been lost

And now the time has come for me
To feel the consequence for non-belief
No longer free to make that choice alone
Too little too late I stand here on my own
Solitary confinement of my soul
Nothing I can do but I won't let go

All at once I can see
The pain that I have brought to you
I hope that you can see
That my hate was not direct towards you
I know that it's too late
To make amends for what I've done
But I've got to come clean
If it's the last thing that I do
